DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1 and 3-14 have been provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 8, 27 and 30 of copending Application No. 09821932. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the scope of the claims in this application encompass the scope of the claims in the copending application and if patented would extend the monopoly rights granted to the copending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3677

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 15, 16, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fisher, 6568011 in view of Klearman, 5493742 and Ku, 5630237.

Regarding claims 15 and 16, Fischer discloses an inflatable mattress having an upper tufted (230) chamber (206) in fluid communication via a plurality of fluid communication channels (col. 5, lines 17-27) with a lower chamber (204), wherein the upper chamber has a height less than the height of the lower chamber. Fischer fails to disclose a layer of cushioning material in the upper chamber and not in the lower chamber.

Klearman discloses an inflatable upper chamber (26) having a down cushioning material (42) within the upper chamber.

Ku discloses using foam material (24) in an inflatable mat, albeit a single chamber inflatable mat.

Both down and foam have been used for cushioning material in mats, beds, chairs, seats, etc. They are considered design equivalents because they solve the same problem of providing comfortable seating or bedding for a user equally as well as the other.

It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to provide Fisher with a layer of foam cushioning material in the upper chamber of the mattress to improve the support and comfort for the user.

Art Unit: 3677

5. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fisher, 6568011 in view of Klearman, 5493742 and Ku, 5630237 as applied above and further in view of Marcus, 3042941.

Regarding claim 20, Fischer discloses openings between the upper and lower chambers that provide fluid communication channels between the two chambers (col. 5, lines 17-27), but fails to disclose a valve between the chambers. The openings are in fluid communication with the inflation valve (210) and an air pump (col. 4, lines 22-24).

Marcus discloses an equilibrium valve (14) between two chambers to maintain the same pressure in both chambers for added comfort for the user.

It would have been obvious to modify Fisher's mattress to include an equilibrium valve in place of the open air openings between the upper and lower chambers to improve the support and comfort of the mattress provided to the user.

6. Claims 18 and 19 have been objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

Art Unit: 3677

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
